What people like and admire about me...

I pride myself on being extremely loyal and compassionate and my close friends and family know that they can always rely on me in any situation.

What's important to me...

My friends and family are a massive part of my life and growing up in a vibrant and musical household developed a huge love of music and encouraged me to learn a range of different instruments growing up.

Having a younger brother with Autism also helped me to understand and appreciate the work of SEN staff in schools and I am extremely passionate in continuing to develop my knowledge regarding all aspects of SEN.

My job has always been one of my biggest achievements and becoming the teacher I am today and helping to shape the education of the children I teach is of huge importance to me.

How best to support me...

I love to surround myself with positive energy and supportive people to encourage and support me in my life. I respond well to feedback from others and always strive to be the best version of myself that I can be!
